CubelQ Partners with Nuxeo

[EN] Athens, GR, May 22nd, 2021 - CubelQ Limited, an IT company provider of software solutions and systems for financial, banking and corporate institutions announces partnership with Nuxeo.

CubelQ partners with Nuxeo a leader in Digital Asset Management and Electronic Content Management to provide a Future-Proof Modernization and Digitization platform to organizations during the digitization era. Nuxeo makes it easy to build smart content applications that enhance customer experiences, improve decision making, and accelerate products to market. Cloud-Native, Low-Code, Adaptable AI, Scalable and Performant, Nuxeo Platform is the rapid-deployment secret weapon to power up application development and enterprise modernization in the cloud.

Cloud Native: Built cloud-first, Nuxeo Platform works how and where you want it to. Keep your information secure with a cloud platform trusted by some of the world's largest banks, insurers, and product companies

Adaptable AI: Use Nuxeo Insight to make smarter predictions without a team of data scientists. Business-specific artificial intelligence is just a few clicks away.

Scalable & Performant: Get cloud-first, modular architecture that scales horizontally and independently, matching even the heaviest workloads in real-time to deliver high performance. Search in a blink of an eye and make the most complex workflows easy.

Nuxeo gives enterprises new capabilities to use more formats at higher volumes, using more tools and to modernize in place, without negatively impacting core business processes.

Nuxeo solutions cover:

- Document Management
- Enterprise Content Management
- Digital Asset Management
- Case Management
- Claims Management
- Customer Communications

And expand to:

- Financial Services
- Consumer Packaged Goods
- Retail
- Media & Entertainment

About Nuxeo

Nuxeo is the visionary developer of a cloud-native, low-code Content Services Platform and is reinventing Enterprise Content Management (ECM) and Digital Asset Management (DAM). Hyland, a leading content services provider that enables thousands of organizations to deliver better experiences to the people they serve, acquired Nuxeo which brings the entire Nuxeo business, including products and technology, under Hyland. With Nuxeo acquisition Hyland deepens position as content services leader and reinforces commitment to cloud and open source. Nuxeo's enterprise-class DAM offering complements and extends Hyland's unparalleled portfolio of content services platform offerings with powerful new capabilities. Nuxeo Insight, an AI and machine learning service, will enable Hyland customers to automatically enrich even the largest content libraries with business-specific metadata, trigger workflows and provide valuable insights to their information.
